

OFFICIAL AX WILL FALL ON ARMY AIR HEAD

General Will Be Reduced To Colonelcy After
March 28

Washington, Feb. 19.—The official ax of the war department has fallen upon the neck of William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service and center of one of the most violent governmental controversies in the country's history.

It was learned today that Brig. General Mitchell was to be reduced to a colonelcy and sent to an outlying post after his present commission in the air service expires on March 26. He was appointed to but a four year term as second in command of the army's air service.

President Coolidge has decided upon this action following conferences with Secretaries Weeks and Wilbur, both of whose departments have been assailed by Mitchell before the house aircraft committee.

Mitchell will accept the edict of the war department and will not resign. He told friends today he would remain in the army as colonel "until we build up in this country a real airplane offense and defense."

The fight on Mitchell is not regarded in army circles as a personal feud. It is regarded as a clash between two radically opposite points of view concerning the value of airplanes in the nation's armament. Mitchell represents the so-called "younger officers," the man who believes that the next war must be fought largely in the air with the regular army and navy units as supplementary. This view is protested by the older, directing heads, who believe that aircraft must be but an auxiliary arm. The two opinions have clashed repeatedly before the aircraft committee, where Mitchell charged that America's air forces are practically "worthless." He would remedy this by uniting the air services under one head in the cabinet which is anathema to the older men in army and navy.

WEIGHT LIMIT FOR TRUCKS ON ROADS RAISED THIS YEAR

A notice of weight limitation for trucks traveling county and state highways during the spring thawing season was received by County Commissioners Thursday in a bulletin from L. A. Boulay, state director of highways. Seven and one-half tons is the limitation this year, the commission stated.

County Commissioners are also asked for a statement concerning the condition of the roads by the state director.

Road conditions were first carefully examined before the weight limit was set and the limit approved by the county commissioners of Ohio.

It is understood that road conditions this year are much better generally than heretofore, throughout the state resulting in the increase in the maximum limit from six and two-thirds tons, in existence for the last two seasons.

A communication received from Governor Vic Donahey, cited the clause in the law which provides that every county must have at least forty miles of good state roads and asked that road patrols be organized or adequate protection given to keep the state roads free from overloaded trucks.

PROBE HOME HERE RESUMED NEXT WEEK

Columbus, Feb. 19.—Investigation of the Xenia Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans' home is to be resumed next week, with examination of additional witnesses here, under plans of Senator L. T. Marshall, Greene County, chairman of the senate committee, which conducted hearings at Xenia, two weeks ago.

The probe has not been resumed sooner, according to Marshall, because of the press of other business in the senate. At least ten more witnesses remained to be examined, he said. The committee examined thirty two witnesses at Xenia.

Several members of the committee have expressed opposition to continuing the investigation, but whether they will checkmate Marshall's plans has not been disclosed. They take the stand that enough evidence has been obtained and that no more is necessary.

DENY REJECTION OF DEBT PROPOSAL

Washington, Feb. 19.—Cable dispatches from Paris to the effect that France had submitted a proposal for a debt settlement to the American government, but that the offer was rejected, were met at the treasury today by the statement that no such proposal had been received by the debt funding commission.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has heard nothing from the French government or its ambassador relative to a settlement since the unofficial conversations of former Ambassador Jusserand.

KING BETTER

London, Feb. 19.—King George was making satisfactory progress today against the influenza, his physicians announced.

"His majesty passed a better night," read the official bulletin, issued this morning. "His progress, though slow, is satisfactory."

"There will be no further announcements today."

UNITED STATES TO GIVE FRANCE LOAN OF HUNDRED MILLION

Clementel Says Loan Promised—Government Says It Is Private

Paris, Feb. 19.—The U. S. has unofficially promised to lend France $100,000,000 as soon as the French budget is voted, Finance Minister Clementel told the chamber of deputies today.

"I have the unofficial promise of the United States not only for a hundred million dollar loan," said Clementel, "but also a separate loan of $35,000,000 for the devastated regions."

Washington, Feb. 19.—Any further loans made to France by the United States will be from private sources in this country and not from government funds, treasury department officials said today in connection with reports from Paris that the French government wished to borrow an additional $100,000,000.

The fact that France already owes the United States $4,000,000,000 and has made no concrete proposals for liquidation of the debt would make it impossible, officials said, for the government to make any further advances.

The treasury department, however, is expected to give its approval to the flotation of a private French loan in the United States.

BIBLE DICTATES VERDICT AND WOMAN SLAYER IS FREED

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 19.—A jury which consulted the Bible before reaching a verdict, acquitted Mrs. Marie Zelio, 19 year old alleged slayer early today after three hours deliberation. She had been on trial for a murder charge in connection with the slaying of John Renne, of Jersey City last October.

The reason for the use of the Bible was not disclosed but a court attaché said later that when he entered the jury room he found it open to the page upon which was written: "Let him among you who is without sin, cast the first stone."

Mrs. Zelio collapsed when the jury foreman pronounced her "not guilty."

Her husband and five year old daughter were near.

It was charged Mrs. Zelio stabbed Renne during an altercation that followed a motor trip.

TELEPHONE CABLE IS BROKEN IN TWO

A new 100-pair wire cable of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company was broken in two places when a workman cutting down a tree in front of the residence of James Cowan, Home Avenue, permitted it to fall on the cable Tuesday.

The severed cable cut 150 telephones out of service, twenty five of them being in the city and 125 rural phones. Workmen were busy Tuesday and Wednesday splicing the cable with a new section 100 feet long.

The cable was new, having been installed last year, replacing old cable at that place. It contained 200 wires and its damage represents a serious loss to the telephone company, it is said.

FEELERS BEING EXTENDED IN ALL CAPITALS

Officials Hopeful But Not Optimistic Of The Outcome.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Informal diplomatic conversations aimed at staging another international arms conference are under way in the principal capitals of the world—but whether they will result in success is a question which administration officials frankly said today they could not answer. They are hopeful, but none too sanguine.

The conversations now in progress are but a continuation of the feelers that have been put out with more or less regularity for the last year and a half. Heretofore they have always resulted in failure, and neither President Coolidge nor his advisers were prepared to say today that the present negotiations will result in a conference at an early date.

Administration officials who are cognizant of what is going on in London, Paris, Tokio and Rome were inclined today to sound a note of warning against a too optimistic view of the present situation. The same forces which have combined to prevent President Coolidge from issuing invitations for another conference for a year and a half have still to be overcome in the present negotiations.

Those forces principally are in Japan.

Great Britain stands willing to cooperate with the United States in another parley. That was Britain's attitude at the time the feelers were put out, more than a year ago and is her position today. It has not changed.

France and Japan have furnished the stumbling blocks—France because she felt another conference at this time might frustrate her plans to improve her military and naval situation on the continent and Japan because she felt she did not fare well at the Washington conference. It is the view of administration officials that another conference is useless unless it can meet with the assurance of some success in limiting submarines and aircraft, those all-important auxiliary arms that were left untouched by the Washington conference.

France has been busily engaged in increasing her force of submarines and aircraft since the Washington conference and also has Japan.

They have been unwilling to date, to engage in a conference that would put a stop to these activities. If French and Japanese objections can be overcome—and administration officials were emphasizing the effect today—it is President Coolidge's hope to stage another conference in Washington next fall, and if possible to open it on the same fourth anniversary of the last conference November 11.

BRITAIN WILLING
London, Feb. 19.—The British government, willing to enter into a disarmament conference with the United States "no matter how wide the scope" it was said at the British foreign office today.

The British government has not, however received from the American government any definite proposals for a disarmament conference the foreign office asserted. It added that England "would welcome" such an invitation from the United States.

Great Britain is willing too that the conference shall be held in Washington. This is in contrast to the policy of the MacDonald government which insisted that the conference must be held in Europe.

The conference should not be called until autumn because of the question of French security still being unsettled, the foreign office pointed out.

DETECTIVE'S HOME BURNED TO GROUND

Ironton, O., Feb. 19.—The country home of Dry Detective George S. Savage was burned to the ground last night.

Sheriff Wilson, with bloodhounds, is on the scene.

Savage has made many enemies some of whom are suspected of the job of burning his home.

ELEVATOR OCT

Chillicothe, Feb. 19.—The first elevator built here is not more. To make room for extensive improvements, it has been removed from the Mytinger building where it was installed in 1896. When first operated, it struck fear into the hearts of some local residents who called it a "consumed thing" as they used the stairs on their way to the third floor. The elevator was water-driven and was provided with seats and mirrors for the convenience of fair customers who wanted to primp—between floors.

Muscle Shoals Is Final Obstacle To Adjournment

Washington, Feb. 19.—The administration was faced today with its last great obstacle to adjournment of congress March 4, when the senate resumed final consideration of Muscle Shoals legislation.

Republican leaders were confident the senate will approve the Underwood bill, as it came from conference without unnecessary delay. They were informed by opponents of the bill, however, that debate would last "at least two days."

The administration's worries lay in the possibility that a filibuster would be staged by the bill's opponents which would jam the legislative calendar in the closing days of congress.

Such a contingency, if it arose, might block final action on three great appropriation bills and force the calling of a special session.

The anti-Underwood forces, through their leader, Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, announced that no filibuster was contemplated.

"We desire only to record our opposition to this bill and to the conference report," said Norris.

With Muscle Shoals out of the way, conference reports on three remaining appropriation bills will be the only "must" legislation attempted by administration leaders.

All legislation pending on house calendars is to be disposed of by the house before the close of the present session, Republican Leader Longworth announced today. The grand will be kept up steadily in the house and the bills will be sent along to the senate, he said, no matter how they are received in that body or what may be their fate in a legislative jam, impending.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST DOPE TRAFFIC REDUCES ADDICTS SURVEY SHOWS

Publicity and Co-operation Of Physicians Resulting In Better Condition—Drug Appetite Among Students
Said To Be Greatly Exaggerated

Washington, Feb. 18.—Narcotic drug addicts in this country number from 110,000 to 150,000, the United States Public Health Service announced today, following an extensive survey.

Wide publicity given the evils of the drug addiction, co-operation of physicians and the savage attack against dope traffic by the federal and state governments has reduced addicts from the approximate of 264,000 of a few years ago officials asserted.

"We may confidently look forward to the time, not many years distant when the few remaining addicts will be persons taking opium because of an incurable disease and addicts of the psychopathic delinquent type, who spend most of their lives in prison," Dr. Lawrence Kolb of the Public Health Service, said.

In connection with the statement the narcotic division of the prohibition unit, charged with enforcement of the Harrison law, announced that during the last year ninety three percent of the 7300 cases taken to court resulted in convictions. A total of 5,028 years imprisonment was imposed in narcotic cases.

A considerable quantity of habit forming drug is still smuggled into the country, the Mexican and Canadian borders and the ports of New York and San Francisco being the chief entry points, it was stated.

A legitimate importation of approximately 130,000 pounds annually is permitted by the federal narcotic control board consisting of Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

The Public Health Service said the legitimate importation is believed to be only slightly in excess of medicinal needs.

The narcotic division said that illegitimate sources of dope virtually are confined to the underworld of the big cities and border cities.

Peddlers were described as becoming more cautious in the sale of drugs. Prices range from $1 to $2 an ounce.

Spread of the appetite for drugs among school and college students was declared by officials to be vastly exaggerated. They insisted that addiction among persons under 20 years of age, practically is unknown.

Per capita legitimate consumption in representative nations was given as follows:

Switzerland 18.15 grains; Canada, 8.7 grains; United States, 8.4 grains; Great Britain, 8.1 grains; Germany, 4 grains; Italy, 3.75 grains.

The Public Health Service said that the greater number of addicts in prisons at present as compared with former years is due to rigid enforcement of the law and not to an increase in the prevalence of addiction.

Few cases of recent addiction can be attributed to physicians, officials said.

TOO BUSY TO SERVE

Pomeroy, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Howard Grant, recently Miss Hazel Van Cooney, narrowly escaped a 30-day prison sentence. In the excitement incident to arrangements for her wedding, she failed to heed summons to attend a grand jury session. She was fined $10 and sentenced to the Marysville reformatory, but the court, upon hearing her explanation, suspended the prison sentence.

COLLISTER BUS BILL COMES TO VOTE IN HOUSE

Hard Fight Expected—
Senate Committee to
Probe Use of Autos

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—A show down is scheduled in the house this afternoon on the Collister city home rule bus bill.

Advocates of the measure, which gives cities authority to regulate all motor bus traffic, whether local or interurban, within city limits, anticipate efforts to pass it will involve a hard fight because of the strength expected to be shown by members opposing further regulation of interurban lines, now vested in the state utilities commission.

House leaders are also fearful that further evidence of the feeling engendered by parliamentary methods used in killing the Buchanan Bible reading bill might crop out when the bus bill reaches a vote.

The house taxation committee is scheduled to report today recommending passage of the Tallentire bill which gives cities home rule in fixing their tax limitations. This measure with its companion, the Dodd bill, giving sub divisions power, by vote of the people, to make levies for running expenses, improvements and sinking fund purposes outside of limitations might be considered together on special order next Wednesday afternoon.

A special senate committee is expected to make plans today for a special probe of the alleged misuse of state automobiles by unauthorized persons. Senator Miller, Butler County, sponsor of the measure, which was adopted by a vote of 16 to 9, is chairman.

The resolution was offered following the three day prison sentence paid by Hal Donahey, son of the governor, for speeding in a state car, and the accident at Springfield in which two persons were hurt in collision with a state car then supposedly under repairs in a local garage.

Among the measures scheduled for second reading and reference to committees in the senate today are:

By Edwards, Licking, to compel auto owners to remove auto tags when transferring ownership, and providing penalties for permitting the use of tags by another person; by Roberts, Mahoning, making Armistice Day a legal holiday; a joint resolution by Aigler, Huron, proposing an amendment to the constitution to provide that 50 per cent of all inheritance and classified taxes be distributed among school districts in proportion to attendance.

Further to pay inheritance and estate taxes in cash, he said, executors must submit to what amounts to forced sales of property in many cases.

"I venture to say," he declared, "that few executors to pay a forty per cent tax they would have to realize in cash, in the ordinary large estate, probably sixty per cent of the appraised value of the estate."

Three prime dangers were listed by President Coolidge as the probable outcome of any long continuance of the present order of double and excessive taxation of estate:

First, a tendency "to lower values throughout the country by reason of forcing upon the market securities which cannot readily be absorbed, thus lowering the very level of values upon which inheritance and estate taxes are actually based."

Second, "a removal of the inspiration to work in order to build up a business or create a property."

And third, "through continued federal activity in this field, a forcing of the states into making up their losses from this source by higher taxes in other fields."

On the third point, President Coolidge said:

Already the taxes levied by the state upon land are so high as to menace the prosperity of the farmer. For the sake of revenue which the federal government receives from this source—being in the last fiscal year only $103,000,000 out of $2,760,000,000 total internal revenue taxes for that year—the federal government should be careful to see that indirectly it is not taxing the very persons whom it most wishes to relieve.

PRESIDENT IS SEEKING SOUND REVENUE PLAN

Asks For Simplified Method—
Deplores Many Tax Evils

Washington, Feb. 19.—In a blunt arraignment of abuses and extravagance existing in the present national tax structure, President Coolidge today asked federal and state tax experts assembled here in conference to evolve a more simplified and economically sound method of raising revenues.

The president called attention to many tax evils, his remarks applying in the main to estate and inheritance taxes. He spared neither state nor federal government in his criticism.

Commenting upon the federal government's imposition in the revenue act of 1924 of an estate tax the highest bracket of which was raised from twenty five to forty per cent, the executive charged congress with having sought social legislation in the guise of taxation.

Turning to the states, Mr. Coolidge declared there existed a competition between states to reach through the inheritance tax everything "which by any construction can be brought within the grasp of the tax gatherer."

The overlapping of federal and state inheritance taxes, he said, has resulted in a situation that amounts to virtual confiscation, wherein many cases, the total taxes levied may even exceed the total value of the estate.

The president reiterated the belief he expressed last year when he signed the revenue act, that the government should withdraw from this field of taxation. He pointed out that in the past the government had sought revenue from state taxation only in time of war emergency and that it always had withdrawn when the emergency ceased to exist.

Referring to the action of congress in not only continuing but actually increasing the rate on this form of taxation, the president said:

"If we are to adopt socialism, it should be presented to the people of this country as socialism and not under the guise of a law to collect revenue. The people are quite able to determine for themselves the desirability of a particular public policy and do not ask to have such policies forced upon them by indirection."

"Personally, I do not feel that large fortunes properly managed, are a menace to our institutions, and therefore ought to be destroyed. On the contrary they have been and can be of great value to our development."

"On the subject of state advance in collecting taxes from heirs to estates, whether large or small, Mr. Coolidge showed how it was possible for one certificate of stock to be taxed seven or eight times to an amount, which under particular circumstances might exceed 100 per cent of the value of the stock."

Further to pay inheritance and estate taxes in cash, he said, executors must submit to what amounts to forced sales of property in many cases.

"I venture to say," he declared, "that few executors to pay a forty per cent tax they would have to realize in cash, in the ordinary large estate, probably sixty per cent of the appraised value of the estate."

Three prime dangers were listed by President Coolidge as the probable outcome of any long continuance of the present order of double and excessive taxation of estate:

First, a tendency "to lower values throughout the country by reason of forcing upon the market securities which cannot readily be absorbed, thus lowering the very level of values upon which inheritance and estate taxes are actually based."

Second, "a removal of the inspiration to work in order to build up a business or create a property."

And third, "through continued federal activity in this field, a forcing of the states into making up their losses from this source by higher taxes in other fields."

On the third point, President Coolidge said:

Already the taxes levied by the state upon land are so high as to menace the prosperity of the farmer. For the sake of revenue which the federal government receives from this source—being in the last fiscal year only $103,000,000 out of $2,760,000,000 total internal revenue taxes for that year—the federal government should be careful to see that indirectly it is not taxing the very persons whom it most wishes to relieve.

SUBSCRIBERS FOR STRAWN STOCK MUST PAY COURT HOLDS

Harry D. Smith, receiver for the Strawn Press Company, was awarded a verdict of $500 against George I. Graham in Common Pleas Court Tuesday when Judge R. L. Gowdy instructed the jury to render a decision in favor of the plaintiff.

The amount constituted 33 1-3 per cent of unpaid stock subscribed for by the defendant in the now defunct Strawn Press Company.

When the company went into receivership in December 1923, from ten to fifteen persons had previously signed subscriptions for shares of stock which they had not paid for and which some refused to pay when the company dissolved.

The company was in existence for nearly a year in buildings leased from the Miami Cereal Company, Washington Street, manufacturing printing presses.

Many subscribers eventually paid their stock subscriptions in the company. G. I. Graham and L. E. John refused to test the case in court.

The case against John will probably be tried in the near future according to Attorney H. D. Smith, receiver. He has filed suit for $333 against John which represents 33 1-3 per cent of his unpaid subscription.

Suits against the stockholders who had not yet paid for their subscriptions were instituted to acquire enough money to pay creditors of the company.

In the case of Frank Johnson vs. R. W. Moore heard in Common Pleas Court Wednesday morning, Judge Gowdy instructed the jury to decide in favor of the plaintiff.

For Ten Years the World's Greatest Buy

Hudson's position as the world's greatest value is not merely a new attainment. For ten years the Super-Six has stood alone in mechanical supremacy. Basic patents have kept others from copying its motor. The smoothness and long life it gives are exclusive. No motor has yet equaled the Super-Six in smoothness and long, economical car life.

A Leadership Never Disputed

Hudson, because of the simplicity of the Super-Six, has always enjoyed manufacturing advantages that permitted a lower selling price than is possible with more complicated types. That, in part, accounts for its 10 years of leadership. Hudson is the World's Greatest Value, because it costs much less than any comparable car.

And because it has always provided better looks and more comfort at less money.

No rival disputes that and every motorist knows it.

JUNIOR AND CENTRAL P-T. A. JOINT MEETING

Junior and Senior High School Parent-Teachers Associations united for a large meeting at Central Building, Monday afternoon. Miscellaneous business was brought before the organization, including the report of the treasurer of the Junior High P-T. A. of $59.50 in the treasury of that society and a report of $276.40 in the treasury of the High School P-T. A. of $180.89 of which was raised by serving luncheon and dinner to the delegates at the recent district P-T. A. convention.

The P-T. A. library committee has submitted a list of $200 worth of books to the Geyer Book Shop, this city and Elder and Johnson Company, Dayton, for bids in purchasing the books for the Central High School Library.

Mr. Harper C. Peadry, principal of the high school, told the organizations of the necessity for the school library, as a state requirement and that the school has been notified by inspectors that if the library was not brought up to standard, the charter would be taken away.

The P-T. A. voted to place three magazines, "The National Geographic," "Literary Digest" and the "Saturday Evening Post" on the library shelves.

Mrs. J. H. Benbow, president of the Central High School P-T. A., told of the work of the organization in combating the spread of obscene literature in the city schools. She urged all organizations to cooperate in the work and said that the Federated Parent-Teachers Association of the city was lending its support. She declared that some of the magazines on local newsstands should be outlawed.

A letter was read by Judge S. C. Wright complimenting the P-T. A. on its cooperative spirit. Another message was given from J. Carl Marshall, Prosecuting Attorney thanking the organizations for its work. In a letter from City School Superintendent C. A. Waltz, he praised the P-T. A. in its success in the district convention.

February 17 is Founder's Day in the National P-T. A. and Mrs. P. C. Hamlin, president of the Federated Association, asked the members to pay a few minutes' silent tribute to Mrs. Higgins, the founder of the work.

FOR SALE

On account of our Old Town Mill being destroyed by fire, instead of rebuilding at this point we will enlarge our mills at Xenia and Goes, O. Therefore, we are offering for sale our Old Town property, comprising of about forty acres of land, a beautiful modern country home, a very fine water power system that could be developed to exert 175 H. P., including all water rights from Little Miami River and Massies Creek, a very neat summer cottage, electric lighted with very pleasant surroundings, about 2500 ft. Pennsylvania private railroad siding.

This property is well adapted for many kinds of industries on account of its good location and its many natural resources. This would make an ideal place for any kind of industry requiring power, an ideal place for manufacturers of water wheels to be used as demonstrating station. This would make a wonderful place for a summer resort as there could be forty or fifty summer cottages built; a fine place for dancing pavilion over the lake, a fine place for a gasoline station with a soft drink, ice cream and cigar stand and a dining room, also a barbecue in connection. There could be a generator attached to water wheel to make electric lights or power for every thing wanted.

This is a wonderful opportunity and will pay you to investigate. Call The DeWine Milling Co., Phone 154.

BEATTY AND JUTLAND

ADMIRAL Sir Reginald Bacon's attack on Earl Beatty, in a volume entitled "The Jutland Scandal," has a personal vehemence which sets it quite apart from dispassionate military criticism. Admiral Bacon views Beatty as the undeserved beneficiary of the many mistakes made at the battle of Jutland and contends that Beatty's mistakes there were graver than those of any other British commander.

To sustain this charge he asserts that Jellicoe could not have safely taken the offensive against the German High Seas Fleet when he arrived on the scene because Beatty had not given him adequate information about the enemy's position. But the German fleet was there and the British Grand Fleet was there, Beatty having drawn it on in a retreating advance-squadron fight. In going so he had accomplished his tactical mission, although at a considerable cost.

Jellicoe had to decide a little after 6 p. m. on May 31, 1916, whether to deploy toward the Germans or away from them. He said in his book that he thought the High Seas Fleet was too close to justify the risk of deploying to starboard (toward Scheer.) He deployed to port and carried his ships away from the Germans.

The information which Beatty gave him could have had little to do with this decision. It was a decision of policy, in keeping with Jellicoe's theories and temperament. As it turned out, the chance of a great British victory vanished with the turning away movement. The Germans also turned away, but in the opposite direction, and the two fleets lost contact. Scheer eventually extricated himself by daring tactics from a very perilous position, the British fleet having interposed itself between him and his base. It is difficult to see how Beatty can be charged with the failure of the British operations after Jellicoe's arrival. Jellicoe's force was greatly superior in armor, armament and numbers. Yet the opportunity to destroy the German fleet was lost through excess caution or unlucky management.

Jutland was a paradoxical naval battle in that the weaker fleet escaped and also suffered relatively smaller losses than the stronger. It is useless to hunt for a new scapegoat. Jellicoe accepted responsibility for the failure to bring on a fleet engagement. Beatty had already fought a long squadron engagement, and nothing he did

COST OF GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

GOVERNMENT operation of American railways has ceased. The books have been closed and the American people, in taxes alone, have paid substantially one and three-quarter billions of dollars for the experiment. The additional costs which the travelers and shippers of America were obliged to meet because of indifferent service and extraordinarily high rates can hardly be estimated. It can be fairly said that this additional burden will come near equaling the actual total of American dollars paid out by the government, which the taxpayers had to meet.

President Coolidge in announcing the dissolution of the governmental war-time operation organization did not attempt to conceal his satisfaction at being able to relieve the American people of this extraordinary burden. Staggering as these totals are the one element of satisfaction is that happily we only embarked on governmental operation, which was the real aim of many people at the time, the total loss of the people's money would have been many times over the present figure, impressive as that is. A study of the costs of this most unfortunate experiment, not only in money values, but in efficiency, should serve to check the gentlemen who, devoid of any personal responsibility, have been preaching governmental operation of public utilities as the one sure way to secure the millennium for American citizens.

THE INCOME TAX

Here are the figures, Collector man! Just study it out for yourself and say how much money I ought to pay! I've sat up nights for a week or more till my brain is fagged and my flesh is sore.

Working and stewing and puzzling it out, Trying to learn what it's all about; But I have to admit that my poor brain lacks

The wit to determine my income tax.

I've gone through the items with painful care, I've waded with zeal through the long instructions, Studied exemptions and pondered deductions.

I've called in the wife and the children, too, And some of the neighbors who said they knew

I've passed up the cross word puzzle craze To give my time to that printed maze.

I've worked at it long and I've worked at it plenty, But I can't get the answer to "Item twenty."

Let me read it once more to you,

Just show that I've truly read it, And studied each item of debt and credit.

This is the way that it sounds to me: "Item nine must subtracted be: From Item forty, plus Item ten,

Minus cost of the ink and pen, Providing the sum of them all shall not Exceed the price of the house and lot."

Two full pages of solid print I have waded through with a patriot's zest,

Mr. Collector, I've done my best To follow your chart and clearly show

And now I come with a heavy heart, How much money in tax I owe,

At cross word tangles I'm fairly smart, But tell me the answer and end my doubt,

For yours is a puzzle I can't work out!

HANDLED BOOKS

There is such a thrill that comes from the handling of a new fresh-lined book.

But lately I have come to love books that have been handled, kissed, warmed against people's hearts and tenderly laid aside after a hard day.

Tonight I have been reading the life of Samuel Butler by Henry Festing Jones. It is in two big volumes and more satisfying than a thousand $10 banquets. But this statement is not very forceful for banquets are so supinely stupid and useless!

Outside the worth of this work, however, there is something else very appealing and that is that John Quinn used to own these volumes and I can imagine how he loved them for he loved beautiful works of art and collected a great library of rare and wonderful books.

I like to think of the hours that John Quinn spent in handling these books, and others of his that were, that I now own for a little time. I am sorry that I never met this John Quinn who was such a lover of noble handiwork, but I have talked with those in New York who did know him and they testify to his great interest in all beautiful things.

You know that a handled book has already given great pleasure and filled many a mind with precious seeds that are never ending in their harvest.

I want no "uncut" books in my library! I want folks to know that I have lived and played and thought and cried all over my prized possessions. I shall keep my books as clean things, but I want them to show signs of use and profit.

I would no sooner abuse a book than I would a flower, a tree or a child.

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR TRAINING CAMP REGISTRATION HERE

Xenia and Greene County youths attending Citizens' Military Training Camps this summer will again go to Camp Knox, Ky., despite the opening of a similar camp in the Fifth Corps area at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., it was learned Wednesday following a conference of officials at Fort Hayes, Columbus.

The camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison will be only open to applicants from Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and northwestern Ohio, it was announced, which will relieve congestion at the Kentucky camp, heretofore taxed to its capacity.

Attorney Harry D. Smith will again be county chairman this year. A committee of fifteen, representative of the entire county has been appointed by Chairman Smith to take care of applications for admission to the camp. Each will be known as the local chairman of his district.

Each camp will open this year July 1 for a thirty day training period. Although the 1925 quota has not been definitely fixed, it is estimated that last year's quota of 5,800 will be increased this year by fully 1,000.

According to local preparations now being made, the campaign for applicants is scheduled to start about March 1. Chairman Smith declared by that time all local chairmen will probably be supplied with application blanks.

The Fifth Corps Area comprises the states of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The committee: C. A. Waltz, superintendent of schools, Xenia; H. C. Aultman, county school superintendent, Xenia; D. H. Barnes, assistant county school superintendent, Xenia; R. E. Zuber, superintendent of Bath Township schools, Osborn; M. E. Collins, superintendent of Beavercreek Twp. Schools, Alpha; H. L. Sams, superintendent, Caesar Creek Twp. Schools, R. 6, Xenia; C. E. Oxley, superintendent, Cedarville Village and Township Schools, Cedarville.

S. E. Shupp, superintendent of schools Clinton; J. W. Gowdy, superintendent of schools Jamestown; W. A. Driscoll, superintendent of Jefferson Twp. Schools, Bowersville; A. F. Roush, superintendent of Ross Twp. Schools, Jamestown; A. W. Drewes, superintendent, Sugar Creek Twp. schools, Bellbrook; O. E. Barr, superintendent of schools, Yellow Springs; Rev. David E. Powers, superintendent of parochial schools, Xenia.

CENTRAL WILL PLAY ROOSEVELT HIGH AT DAYTON THURSDAY

Central High School will invade Dayton territory Thursday night for a game with Roosevelt High School.

Roosevelt always has a classy court combination and this year's five is no exception.

Captain Bollechino, forward on the Dayton quintet is the outstanding star of the team and is running up in the race for individual scoring honors of all the high schools in the Gem City.

Bollechino, it will be remembered, and Baker, another basketball star this year, practically defeated Xenia in football last year single handed and gained the name of the Baker to Bollechino combination.

Central is in fine shape for the melee and Coach John Ballantyne will undoubtedly start his regular men in the game.

Roosevelt will probably lineup with Bollechino and Baker at forwards, Mackmull jumping center and Lee and Bartholomew down the guarding.

Huston and Rutan are slated to begin at the forward positions for Xenia with Buell at center and Capton Perrine and Holton protecting the goal.

A preliminary to the main game is scheduled to get under way at 7 o'clock.

ORCHARD EXPERT HOLDS MEETINGS

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance Markets Stocks, Bonds and Investments

SECURITY GAUGE

Just as certain rough and ready tests determine the breed of an animal, so do similar rough and ready tests indicate the standing of a security.

Practically everything possesses "earmarks" which tend to classify it one way or another. Stocks and bonds are no exceptions to this rule. The table given below furnishes a set of facts which the average investor may use as a "rule of thumb" in classifying securities.

Bonds
High grade bonds yield 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 per cent.
Middle grade bonds yield 5 1/2 to 7 per cent.
Speculative bonds yield 7 per cent and over.

Stocks (Preferred)
High grade pfd. yield 5 and 6 per cent.
Middle grade pfd. yield 6 to 8 per cent.
Speculative pfd. yield 8 per cent and over.

Stocks (Common)
High grade stocks (common) yield 5 to 7 per cent.
Middle grade stocks (common) yield 7 to 8 1/2 per cent.
Spec. stocks (common) yield 8 1/2 per cent and over.

This article does not mean to condemn all high-yield stocks. There are many excellent ones but the old rule, "High yield means high risk" is still pretty generally true.

The amazing story of the life of Helen Keller, blind, deaf and dumb, was unfolded before a packed audience at the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, Tuesday when the motion picture "Deliverance" was exhibited under the auspices of the Junior class.

The picture was shown both in the afternoon and evening and the large number of tickets sold by the high school pupils swelled the audiences that witnessed the three-act photo drama.

Talented motion picture actors and actresses took the parts of characters entering Miss Keller's life, since the time she was a baby, left helpless as the result of disease, through the remarkable course of training until she was shown as she is today.

Miss Keller recently visited Dayton, Springfield, Columbus and other nearby cities and the picture-story of her life was of interest in connection with her personal appearance. The characters in the picture included that of Miss Sullivan, one of Miss Keller's teachers several years ago, who is an aunt of Miss Sarah Hagar, this city.

The picture has been well received over the entire country. Two two-reel comedies were shown in addition to the main movie.

VAUDEVILLE ACTS BOOKED FOR EAGLES CIRCUS NEXT WEEK

Two professional vaudeville acts have been added to the array of talent that will amuse and entertain crowds attending the Fun Fest and Indoor Circus of Xenia Aerie, No. 1689, Fraternal Order of Eagles, to be given at Eagles Hall all next week.

Both floors of the lodge home have been thrown open to the program and the events each evening will start at 7:30 o'clock. Included in the hippodrome features, are Dinola, sensational slack wire performer; Higgin, the Human Frog; The Great Williams, in trick barrel, acrobatic, hand balancing and equilibrium stunts; Clark and Davis in comedy juggling; D'Armore, in table and chair balancing and pyramid building; The Baloy Sisters in bits of musical comedy and their delegation of clowns and merry-makers, who feature something new in the King Bee stunt, a rube act that always appeals.

All are old-time performers in the tent and before the footlights. The admission fee each evening will be ten cents, and patrons will participate in the donation of a radio set by the lodge on the closing night.

On that night also a queen of the week will be crowned, through a voting contest to be conducted during the week, and two diamond rings have been purchased by the lodge to be given the winners. The fun fest will mark the first formal opening of the lodge quarters to the public, and patrons will be granted an opportunity to inspect the building.

Funds obtained will be applied to the Eagles' building fund.

GREENE COUNTY BEE KEEPERS ORGANIZE

A permanent organization of Greene County Bee Keepers was effected at the meeting in the Assembly Room of the Court House, Wednesday afternoon, E. S. Collier, Xenia, was elected president; Leroy Wolf, Xenia, vice president; and L. A. Sheffield, Jamestown, secretary-treasurer.

Charles A. Reese, State applan inspector and extension specialist in apiculture, spoke on organized work among bee keepers in the state and on the control of American foul brood.

With the organization of a county association early inspection in the cleaning up of American foul brood which is the most dreaded disease in the bee industry, is assured.

The next bee keepers meeting will be held on March 14 in the Assembly Room of the Court House, at which time Mr. Reese has again promised to be present and show several reels of motion pictures on the bee industry and the control of diseases.

How To Tell a Woman's Age By Her Hands

A noted beauty specialist recently said that she could invariably judge a woman's age by her hands. Worry and hard work often shows in the face. For this reason more attention should be given to the hands as they are really the true marks of refinement and the tellers of our age. Any woman can have beautiful, white, soft hands, regardless of the work she has to do, if she will simply spend a minute or two just before retiring, rubbing a little plain ice-cream on them. In the morning she will be greatly surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-cream is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties whether used on the hands or face. Regardless of what kind of work a woman does, she should have pretty hands. As the hands, if neglected, are bound to show the hard work and worry of our lives. A few applications will actually make any woman proud of her hands and skin. Ice-cream costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

FAIRFIELD WILL BE ALLOWED PROPERTY RE-APPRAISAL SOON

A resolution adopted unanimously by the Council of the Village of Fairfield petitioning County Auditor R. O. Wead for a reappraisal of real estate and property in the village this year has been received, he announced Thursday.

"The inequalities in real estate valuations of Fairfield is realized," said Auditor Wead Thursday, "and a reappraisal will be begun at an early date."

The resolution read: "The seeming inequality of appraisal of properties of the Village of Fairfield is not considered fair to all property holders and we accordingly petition the auditor to reappraise the village." A representative of the village made a strong plea for reappraisal at the recent public hearing before the County Commissioners when the question of a county-wide reappraisal was discussed, and particularly cited the inequalities in valuations in Fairfield Village.

When Wilbur Wright Field, the airport, chose Fairfield for its site several years ago, the village of Fairfield was placed on the map, according to Auditor Wead and property valuations increased accordingly until a reappraisal is almost a necessity.

Mere Coincidence, That's All

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Fannie Brice, a musical comedy star, and wife of Nicky Arnstein, notorious crook, is a trifle peeved over what she describes as a coincidence. A short time ago Miss Brice met Lucilla Lee, a chorus girl and daughter of a guard at Leavenworth prison, where Nicky is now residing, and helped her get a job. Now people connect this with the fact that Nicky was recently given an easy job at Leavenworth. Fannie says it's a coincidence.

RAN WELTER WINS FROM RALPH FULTON ON WRESTLING CARD

By L. J. WONES

The Eagles' wrestling show, Wednesday evening was one of the best since the lodge revived the playing game here last fall.

Three bouts made up the card, in the first a go Lee Umbles, undisputed Cuyahoga champion and claimant for the title, defeated Ralph Fulton, Cuyahoga welter, when after losing first fall he made a nice comeback took the second and third falls. Match lasted one hour and thirty minutes and was the best seen here for some time.

Umbles is fast and clever. He displayed nice form and showed excellent sportsmanship. He was wrestling in great odds as Fulton was a heavier and larger and resembled a middleweight.

Fulton is no slouch. His strength and endurance saved him more than once. He used a head lock quite frequently with good success. Fulton the first fall after the men had a wrestling twenty minutes. He was a hammerlock that forced the man to surrender.

Umbles made a nice comeback and stied rings around his opponent. He got several grips one being a Nelson and hammerlock that the Columbus man wriggle with. The Cuban finally got a hammerlock and pinned Fulton to the mat after eighteen minutes of the match.

The third fall was the longest, last thirty-five minutes. Umbles won an arm strangle lock.

The second main event was another fought match with Billy Hallas, Cuyahoga, trading grips with Harry Klonis of Columbus.

was Greek against Greek and the resembled a fight in places. Slugging, kicking and biting were all in the night. The bout was a continual uproar.

Umbles won the match after losing the first fall taking the next two falls in minutes.

Hallas, Greek welterweight champion, fast, strong and clever when he is on his feet. He will meet Jack Reynolds, the world's 145-pound champ, at 3 at Eagles Hall.

Klonis, in a statement to the writer, said that he had lost to better men. Klonis showed his best in the first fall which he won by a double wrist lock in twenty minutes.

Hallas took the second fall in five minutes with a leg split in ten minutes. A man left out the rough work and let the time to grappling. Hallas took the third fall when he caught Klonis off balance and jumped on him and pinned his shoulders.

Miller of Akron beat Genead of this city in seventeen minutes with a scissors. The bout started slow but near the end speeded up and got several grips that caused trouble one of these being a gold.

Hallas had a weight advantage and has had much more experience in the local mat man. Considering the handicaps we put up a nice fight.

Air crowd witnessed the show and all were well pleased with the results. George Gatsot refereed the last and Klonis won while George Klonis of this city officiated for the main events and in the semi-finals.

GAMES THIS WEEK TO END SCHEDULE OF BASKET BALL LOOP

The County Basketball League will officially close this week with leaders in both the boys' and girls' division practically "in."

AVOID HEAVY LOADS

Columbus, Feb. 19.—Pointing out that roads are subjected to their greatest test during thawing weather, state highway officials have urged persons driving over the public highways to avoid excessive loading and speed. The road bed becomes soft during thaws and is easily damaged by heavy vehicles, it was explained.

The state's highway maintenance forces, it was announced, will be turned to cod liver oil in tablet form.

That's why physicians and pharmacists in all parts of the country and even in Canada are advising sick, weak rundown folks to take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

They helped millions of ill, weak, despairing folks last year—they will do the same for millions this year.

To people who are languid or indolent—who haven't the vigor or energy or the endurance needed to do their work properly we say—

Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days—then if you don't say they are the best builder of health and strength you ever used, get your money back from Sayre & Hemphill or H. C. Sohn, or the druggist from whom you bought them.

60 tablets—60 cents—but be sure and get McCoy's—the original and genuine. Adv.

Reports tell us that in one state, tens of thousands of people are "all too slowly" regaining their health and strength after illness.

Influenza and Grippe are insidious diseases, that nine times out of ten strip their victims of strength, vitality and power to endure any ordinary strain.

Even a heavy cold or a lingering cough may sap a man's strength so tremendously that he despairs of every being strong enough to go to work again.

People in this deplorable condition should know that the greatest builder of strength in weak, rundown, tired out people is Cod Liver Oil—its full of the best health building vitamins, as any doctor or chemist will tell you.

But it's loathsome stuff to take—the taste nauseates—the smell disgusts and repulses.

SPRING AIN'T COME YET!

Oh, how I long for sunny spring and all the pleasures it will bring, when kids will bring their books from school and we will pasture out our mule. I often think of coming days, of lulling winds and warbling jays, and I have counted months and weeks 'till there'll be fishing in the creeks; when locust blossoms I will smell and hang the cream jar in the well.

I've had enough of drifting snows, of colds in chests and frosted toes; and I am sick of mush and cakes which every morning wifey bakes. I'll laugh when wintry days are o'er, when bitter winds will howl no more, to make me stay at home of nights and burn the coal oil in my lights. My, ain't it grand to think of spring and all the pleasures it will bring.

Within a month or so I'll take my garden spade and sharp-toothed rake, and I will plant just what we need of every kind of garden seed. I'll move the porch swing from out the shed and daut it with a coat of red, and in the yard I'll plant some hay so there'll be picking for my hay. I'll dig some worms and kill a fowl and then will fish in the canal. And when the dandelion is up, I'll make a drink I love to sup.

I'll plow my fields of oats and corn and get up early every morn', when dew will be on grass and road and flies will hide away from toads. Yea, I'll be glad to welcome spring and all the pleasures it will bring.

Outside the birds will sing their tunes and for our breakfast we'll have prunes. We'll see the sunshine in the sky and watch the clouds go sailing by. The grass will all be green, I vow, and fit for pasture for my cow. The maples will be full of juice and turnips growing like the deuce. The cows and chickens all will dig and I will kill a Hereford pig. Gosh, how I long for sunny spring and all the pleasures it will bring.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arm or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Menthosulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin trouble can know the delight this Menthosulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Menthosulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

FIRST WOMAN MADE MEMBER OF GREENE COUNTY FAIR BOARD

Mrs. L. H. Jones, Miami Township, has the distinction of being the first woman in Greene County to be appointed a member of the Greene County Agricultural Society. Her appointment was made at the meeting of the fair board, Tuesday afternoon in the County Commissioners' Office in the Court House and she will fill the place of John Hoffman, who was elected from Miami Township, last fall. Mr. Hoffman moved from the county which resulted in his resignation from the board.

J. Harve Lackey's election as County Commissioner, automatically removed him as a member of the fair board and his place was filled at the meeting Monday by the appointment of C. W. Mott, Jamestown representing Ross Township.

The Greene County Fair will be held August 4, 5, 6 and 7, as arranged at a previous meeting and department heads of the annual county agricultural show were appointed at Monday's meeting.

The department heads are as follows: Speed Department, C. M. Austin, B. U. Bell and Grant Miller and under this department are: Horses, Grant Miller; Cattle (beef and dairy calf club) L. B. Harner and Frank Turnbull; Sheep, Walter St. John; Swine, C. W. Mott; Poultry, Thomas Faulkner; Art, Hall, Mrs. L. H. Jones; Farm and Garden Products and Grange and Vegetable Hall, A. B. Lewis; Machinery, W. C. Smith, and Automobile Department, N. N. Hunter.

A change in the sheep department was effected, each class and breed of that department being allowed sweepstakes, instead of sweepstakes for several classes grouped.

The Boys' and Girls' Club work of the county, headed by Ford S. Prince, County Farm Agent, was allowed $450 to carry on the work of the clubs.

The Baby Beef and Dairy Calf Clubs were each allowed $200 for their work. The County Grange was allowed $155, in case that six Granges exhibit at the fair and in the possibility of seven exhibiting, the extra organization will be allowed $45.

Harve Lackey, who served several years as a member of the Fair Board, was extended a vote of thanks by members. Nine members of the board attended the meeting.

Stomach Distress

"For many years I suffered from gastric stomach trouble and a constipated condition of the bowels," said Mrs. J. Paul of 543 E. Broadway Toledo. "I took different medicines but never found anything to equal Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I would become constipated and would suffer from severe headaches. Had indigestion, after eating gas would form and cause great distress. I had to keep taking something all the time to overcome these conditions. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have proved to be the best thing I have ever taken for my ailment. Since taking them I have had very little trouble with either my stomach or bowels. I also give the 'Pleasant Pellets' to my children as a laxative and find them excellent. They are very mild. These 'Pellets' should be kept in every home."

Obtain a trial of Pellets now of your druggist and see how quickly you'll feel clear headed—full of vim and vitality. 60 Pellets for 30c.

NOW DOES ALL HER WORK

Has No Backache, No Bad Feelings Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Drove Her Illness Away

Milwaukee, Wisconsin—"I was in a badly run-down condition and I would get weak spells and terrible headaches. I felt so badly last year that I could not do any housecleaning. The minute I would lift or stoop it seemed as if I was going to fall to pieces. I told a neighbor how I felt and she said that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was surely the right thing for me. I took four bottles then and in the fall of the year I took three. I had been treated by a doctor but he gave me an iron tonic and that did not help me. It seemed that the tonic did not have in it what the Vegetable Compound did. That gave me the strength and ambition I needed and I have gained in weight. This year before I started to clean house I got four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and am taking it right along. I tell all my friends about it and how much good it does me. They can notice it because I have gained in weight. I weigh 118 now and do all my work myself again."—Mrs. EMIL O. BRANDENBURG, 681 87th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

BRINGING UP FATHER

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA AND JIM LELAND return from their honeymoon to his home town, where his mother promptly begins to try to make Cynthia over. She has accepted the girl merely on approval. Cynthia finds it difficult to get along with her sister-in-law.

LOUELLA GRAY, also, but likes her brother-in-law, Stanley. She meets NOEL GARDNER while her husband is out of town on business partly concerned with some bad investments that his mother has made.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT XVII—CYNTHIA'S PLAN

LOUELLA and her husband insisted on driving Cynthia home, although she would have preferred going in her own car, which had been ordered to call for her. Louella urged that she telephone her chauffeur that he need not come back. "In fact, you might just as well dismiss him, now that Jim is away," she told Cynthia.

"But Jim's to be back quite soon; it would be absurd to discharge Chester and then have to look for another chauffeur at once," Cynthia protested. "Oh, but Jim's to be away for some time," Louella answered. "I was talking with mother just before I left home this evening, and she'd had a letter from him. He won't be back for several months, she says; he's gone on to the Coast, and may go to Honolulu before he returns."

"Really?" Cynthia's face fell. How would she get along without Jim all that time? "In that case, he's probably written me also—he'll want me to join him," she said, hardly realizing that she was speaking aloud. Louella looked at her dubiously. "Well, perhaps, though it would hardly seem likely to me," she replied. Cynthia's face flushed, but she said nothing. Why hadn't Jim written her as promptly as he had written his mother? For a moment she was very angry. Then another thought came—probably he had planned to send her a telegram that night, or perhaps he'd call her on the long distance. "I must hurry home," she exclaimed, when she thought of that. "I'm sure Jim will call me tonight on the phone."

"If he does he's more extravagant than he used to be," her sister-in-law commented sharply. During the drive home Louella was very quiet; it was a disappointing silence, and Cynthia made no effort to break it. Why should her husband's people be so hostile, she asked herself. It seemed impossible to please them. Well, she'd stop trying, if they continued to be so disagreeable.

Stanley escorted her up to the steps to her front door, and waited there with her until it was opened. "Guess you and I got in wrong tonight," he confessed gloomily. "Louella gave me the deuce when I saw her for a few moments alone, and she'll go on with it when we get home. Think I was too attentive to you at dinner—when it was all I could do to tear your attention away from Noel Gardner."

"You'd better not have anything to do with me if you want to keep peace in the family, everything I do is wrong," Cynthia retorted. She was tired and unhappy, wretched at the prospect of having Jim away for so long.

"Oh, well, it's just the old question of adapting yourself to new people and surroundings," he told her. "It was hard for me at first too. As soon as you learn their ways and settle into them you'll be all right."

Cynthia nodded, glad to get rid of him and go into the house alone. It seemed very gloomy and lonesome, but at least she could be alone. She undressed, and sat reading in her little sitting-room, near the telephone, for the next two hours, sure that Jim would call her. But at last, exhausted, she went to bed. Jim evidently hadn't thought it worth the money to call her. She was at Gardner's office promptly at eleven the next morning, and explained that she understood that he was interested in the stock that Madame Leland had bought, and lost money on, and that she wanted him to buy it back from Madame Leland and then sell it to her.

"You see, she and I have had some difficulty about—well, about other things," she told him. "And I feel that if I could do this it would make matters easier for both of us." He studied her quietly for a moment. Then he nodded decisively and reached for some papers that were in a drawer of his desk. "All right, I'll do it," he told her. "As a matter of fact, that stock that Madame Leland bought is very low just now, and of course if she doesn't wish to keep it until it goes up she's at liberty to sell. It's true that I'm heavily interested in it, but things were not managed quite as I'd have chosen while I was away."

"Mind if I join you?"

and—oh, I won't explain, but I'll buy the stock back from her, and arrange later to sell it to you." "At the price she paid for it," Cynthia insisted. "Yes, at that same price. Now, tell me—can't we have luncheon together?" Cynthia smiled as she shook her head.

"Sorry, but I'm lunching out at the country club with Mrs. Malcolm; we're going to play golf afterwards." He looked up with interest. "That's a good way to spend the afternoon—congratulations. Now, I'll phone you later about this matter, and we can settle the details then."

Cynthia drove out to the country club with her thoughts in a turmoil. Her father had left her very well provided for, but if she was to buy this stock she would have to sell some of the securities that he had left her; it would take all the money that she could put her hands on, swallowing up her income for some months to come.

"I don't care if it takes every cent I've got," she decided as she reached the club. "I'll do it." Her luncheon with Cecile Malcolm was a long round of gossip, and she was glad to leave the table and go out to the veranda. The first person she saw there was Noel Gardner, in golfing clothes. He hurried forward eagerly. "Mind if I join you?" he asked.

OFFICIAL AX WILL FALL ON ARMY AIR HEAD

General Will Be Reduced To
Colonelcy After
March 28

Washington, Feb. 19.—The official ax of the war department has fallen upon the neck of William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service and center of one of the most violent governmental controversies in the country's history.

It was learned today that Brig. General Mitchell was to be reduced to a colonelcy and sent to an outlying post after his present commission in the air service expires on March 26. He was appointed to but a four year term as second in command of the army's air service.

President Coolidge has decided upon this action following conferences with Secretaries Weeks and Wilbur, both of whose departments have been assailed by Mitchell before the house aircraft committee.

Mitchell will accept the edict of the war department and will not resign. He told friends today he would remain in the army as colonel "until we build up in this country a real airplane offense and defense."

The fight on Mitchell is not regarded in army circles as a personal feud. It is regarded as a clash between two radically opposite points of view concerning the value of airplanes in the nation's armament. Mitchell represents the so-called "younger officers," the man who believes that the next war must be fought largely in the air with the regular army and navy units as supplementary. This view is protested by the older, directing heads, who believe that aircraft must be but an auxiliary arm. The two opinions have clashed repeatedly before the aircraft committee, where Mitchell charged that America's air forces are practically "worthless." He would remedy this by uniting the air services under one head in the cabinet which is anathema to the older men in army and navy.

WEIGHT LIMIT FOR TRUCKS ON ROADS RAISED THIS YEAR

A notice of weight limitation for trucks traveling county and state highways during the spring thawing season was received by County Commissioners Thursday in a bulletin from L. A. Boulay, state director of highways. Seven and one-half tons is the limitation this year, the communication stated.

County Commissioners are also asked for a statement concerning the condition of the roads by the state director.

Road conditions were first carefully examined before the weight limit was set and the limit approved by the county commissioners of Ohio.

It is understood that road conditions this year are much better generally than heretofore, throughout the state resulting in the increase in the maximum limit from six and two-thirds tons, in existence for the last two seasons.

A communication received from Governor V. Donahay, cited the clause in the law which provides that every county must have at least forty miles of good state roads and asked that road patrols be organized or adequate protection given to keep the state roads free from overloaded trucks.

PROBE HOME HERE RESUMED NEXT WEEK

Columbus, Feb. 19.—Investigation of the Xenia Soldiers and Sailors' Orphan's home is to be resumed next week, with examination of additional witnesses here, under plans of Senator L. T. Marshall, Greene County, chairman of the senate committee which conducted hearings at Xenia, two weeks ago.

The probe has not been resumed sooner, according to Marshall, because of the press of other business in the senate. At least ten more witnesses remained to be examined, he said. The committee examined thirty two witnesses at Xenia.

Several members of the committee have expressed opposition to continuing the investigation, but whether they will checkmate Marshall's plans has not been disclosed. They take the stand that enough evidence has been obtained and that no more is necessary.

DENY REJECTION OF DEBT PROPOSAL

Washington, Feb. 19.—Cable dispatches from Paris to the effect that France had submitted a proposal for a debt settlement to the American government, but that the offer was rejected, were met at the treasury today by the statement that no such proposal had been received by the debt funding commission.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has heard nothing from the French government or its ambassador relative to a settlement since the unofficial conversations of former Ambassador Jusserand.

COOLIDGE ATTACKS TAX SYSTEM DISCUSS ARMS CONFERENCE

KING BETTER

London, Feb. 19.—King George was making satisfactory progress today against the influenza, his physicians announced.

"His majesty passed a better night," read the official bulletin, issued this morning. "His progress, though slow, is satisfactory. There will be no further announcements today."

UNITED STATES TO GIVE FRANCE LOAN OF HUNDRED MILLION

Clementel Says Loan Promised—Government Says It Is Private

Paris, Feb. 19.—The U. S. has unofficially promised to lend France $100,000,000 as soon as the French budget is voted, Finance Minister Clementel told the chamber of deputies today.

"I have the unofficial promise of the United States not only for a hundred million dollar loan," said Clementel, "but also a separate loan of $35,000,000 for the devastated regions."

Washington, Feb. 19.—Any further loans made to France by the United States will be from private sources in this country and not from government funds, treasury department officials said today in connection with reports from Paris that the French government wished to borrow an additional $100,000,000.

The fact that France already owes the United States $4,000,000,000 and has made no concrete proposals for liquidation of the debt would make it impossible, officials said, for the government to make any further advances.

The treasury department, however, is expected to give its approval to the flotation of a private French loan in the United States.

BIBLE DICTATES VERDICT AND WOMAN SLAYER IS FREED

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 19.—A jury which consulted the Bible before reaching a verdict, acquitted Mrs. Marie Zello, 19 year old alleged slayer today after three hours deliberation. She had been on trial on a murder charge in connection with the stabbing of John Renne, of Jersey City last October.

The reason for the use of the Bible was not disclosed but a court attaché said later that when he entered the jury room he found it open to the page upon which was written: "Let him among you who is without sin, cast the first stone."

Mrs. Zello collapsed when the jury foreman pronounced her "not guilty."

Her husband and five year old daughter were near.

It was charged Mrs. Zello stabbed Renne during an altercation that followed a motor trip.

TELEPHONE CABLE IS BROKEN IN TWO

A new 100-pair wire cable of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company was broken in two places when a workman cutting down a tree in front of the residence of James Cowan, Home Avenue, permitted it to fall on the cable Tuesday.

The severed cable cut 150 telephones out of service, twenty five of them being in the city and 125 rural phones. Workmen were busy Tuesday and Wednesday splicing the cable with a new section 100 feet long.

The cable was new, having been installed last year, replacing old cable at that place. It contained 200 wires and its damage represents a serious loss to the telephone company, it is said.

FEELERS BEING EXTENDED IN ALL CAPITALS

Officials Hopeful But Not Optimistic Of The Outcome.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Informal diplomatic conversations aimed at staging another international arms conference are under way in the principal capitals of the world—but whether they will result in success is a question which administration officials frankly said today they could not answer. They are hopeful, but none too sanguine.

The conversations now in progress are but a continuation of the feelers that have been put out with more or less regularity for the last year and a half. Heretofore they have always resulted in failure, and neither President Coolidge nor his advisers were prepared to say today that the present negotiations will result in a conference at an early date.

Administration officials who are cognizant of what is going on in London, Paris, Tokio and Rome were inclined today to sound a note of warning against a too optimistic view of the present situation. The same forces which have combined to prevent President Coolidge from issuing invitations for another conference for a year and a half have still to be overcome in the present negotiations.

Those forces principally are in Japan. Great Britain stands willing to co-operate with the United States in another parley. That was Britain's attitude at the time the feelers were put out, more than a year ago and is her position today. It has not changed.

France and Japan have furnished the stumbling blocks—France because she felt another conference at this time might frustrate her plans to improve her military and naval situation on the continent and Japan because she felt she did not fare well at the Washington conference. It is the view of administration officials that another conference is useless unless it can meet with the assurance of some success in limiting submarines and aircraft, those all-important auxiliary arms that were left untouched by the Washington conference.

France has been busily engaged in increasing her force of submarines and aircraft since the Washington conference and has been unwilling to date, to engage in a conference that would put a stop to these activities. If French and Japanese objections can be overcome—and administration officials were emphasizing the effect today—it is President Coolidge's hope to stage another conference in Washington next fall, and if possible to open it on the same fourth anniversary of the last conference November 11.

BRITAIN WILLING
London, Feb. 19.—The British government is willing to enter into a disarmament conference with the United States "no matter how wide the scope" it was said at the British foreign office today.

The British government has not, however received from the American government any definite proposals for a disarmament conference the foreign office asserted. It added that England "would welcome" such an invitation from the United States.

Great Britain is willing too that the conference shall be held in Washington. This is in contrast to the policy of the MacDonald government which insisted that the conference must be held in Europe.

The conference should not be called until autumn because of the question of French security still being unsettled, the foreign office pointed out.

DETECTIVE'S HOME BURNED TO GROUND

Ironton, O., Feb. 19.—The country home of Dry Detective George S. Savage was burned to the ground last night.

Sherriff Wilson, with bloodhounds, is on the scene.

Savage has made many enemies some of whom are suspected of the job of burning his home.

ELEVATOR OCT

Chillicothe, Feb. 19.—The first elevator built here is not more. To make room for extensive improvements, it has been removed from the Myttinger building where it was installed in 1896. When first operated, it struck fear into the hearts of some local residents who called it a "consumed thing" as they used the stairs on their way to the third floor. The elevator was water-driven and was provided with seats and mirrors for the convenience of fair customers who wanted to primp—between floors.

Muscle Shoals Is Final Obstacle To Adjournment

Washington, Feb. 19.—The administration was faced today with its last great obstacle to adjournment of congress March 4, when the senate resumed final consideration of Muscle Shoals legislation.

Republican leaders were confident the senate will approve the Underwood bill, as it came from conference without unnecessary delay. They were informed by opponents of the bill, however, that debate would last "at least two days."

The administration's worries lay in the possibility that a filibuster would be staged by the bill's opponents which would jam the legislative calendar in the closing days of congress. Such a contingency, if it arose, might block final action on three great appropriation bills and force the calling of a special session.

The anti-Underwood forces, through their leader, Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, announced that no filibuster was contemplated.

"We desire only to record our opposition to this bill and to the conference report," said Norris.

With Muscle Shoals out of the way, conference reports on three remaining appropriation bills will be the only "must" legislation attempted by administration leaders.

GLORIA IMPROVES
Paris, Feb. 18.—Gloria Swanson was reported much improved today, after the hasty operation on the eve of her sailing for America yesterday morning.

The Marquise De La Falaise et De La Courays, her husband, made tentative reservations for them on the Aquitania sailing for New York on March 4.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST DOPE TRAFFIC REDUCES ADDICTS SURVEY SHOWS

Publicity and Co-operation Of Physicians Resulting In Better Condition—Drug Appetite Among Students
Said To Be Greatly Exaggerated

Washington, Feb. 18.—Narcotic drug addicts in this country number from 110,000 to 150,000, the United States Public Health Service announced today, following an extensive survey.

Wide publicity given the evils of the drug addiction, co-operation of physicians and the savage attack against dope traffic by the federal and state governments has reduced addicts from the approximate of 264,000 of a few years ago officials asserted.

"We may confidently look forward to the time, not many years distant when the few remaining addicts will be persons taking opium because of an incurable disease and addicts of the psychopathic delinquent type, who spend most of their lives in prison," Dr. Lawrence Kolb of the Public Health Service, said.

In connection with the statement the narcotic division of the prohibition unit, charged with enforcement of the Harrison law, announced that during the last year ninety three percent of the 7300 cases taken to court resulted in convictions. A total of 5,028 years imprisonment was imposed in narcotic cases.

A considerable quantity of habit forming drug is still smuggled into the country, the Mexican and Canadian borders and the ports of New York and San Francisco being the chief entry points, it was stated.

CURFEW TO RING AT MIDNIGHT AT CHARLESTON HOPS

Charleston, W. V., Feb. 19.—The well-trained feet of dance lovers remained stock still while the hearts of the Terpsichorean art exponents fluttered wildly.

A harmless, animated discussion brought in its wake, a discovery that took on proportions of calamity, to the foot shaking public.

Charleston has a law, and has had it for more than twenty years, prohibiting a dance from continuing after midnight. The discussion and subsequent discovery resulted from a letter to the West Virginia Municipal League from the Madison, Wis. Chamber of Commerce, asking if dances can be regulated by municipal law.

Now the Charleston fox trotters and one-steppers are pointing out that folks ought to mind their own business.

SANTA ON SKATES!

One little school boy, whose heart was yearned for a pair of roller skates that he stole a pair, thereby being called before the school superintendent, found out that every cloud has a silver lining Wednesday.

A Xenia business man, in the office of Superintendent C. A. Waitz at the time, heard the boy's pitiful confession later. He appealed to friends for small donations and in a short time the youth was provided with a brand new pair of roller skates.

It is the belief of this business man that discarded roller skates may be found in many homes which would gladden the hearts of youngsters unable to procure them. He suggests that discarded skates be taken to the school where many youngsters would appreciate them.

COLLISTER BUS BILL COMES TO VOTE IN HOUSE

Hard Fight Expected—
Senate Committee to
Probe Use of Autos

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—A show down is scheduled in the house this afternoon on the Collister city home rule bus bill.

Advocates of the measure, which gives cities authority to regulate all motor bus traffic, whether local or interurban, within city limits, anticipate efforts to pass it will involve a hard fight because of the strength expected to be shown by members opposing further regulation of interurban lines, now vested in the state utilities commission.

House leaders are also fearful that further evidence of the feeling engendered by parliamentary methods used in killing the Buchanan Bible reading bill might crop out when the bus bill reaches a vote.

The house taxation committee is scheduled to report today recommending passage of the Tallentire bill which gives cities home rule in fixing their tax limitations. This measure with its companion, the Dodd bill, giving sub divisions power, by vote of the people, to make levies for running expenses, improvements and sinking fund purposes outside of limitations might be considered together on special order next Wednesday afternoon.

A special senate committee is expected to make plans today for a special probe of the alleged misuse of state automobiles by unauthorized persons. Senator Miller, Butler County, sponsor of the measure, which was adopted by a vote of 16 to 9, is chairman.

The resolution was offered following the three day prison sentence paid by Hal Donahay, son of the governor, for speeding in a state car, and the accident at Springfield in which two persons were hurt in collision with a state car then supposedly under repairs in a local garage.

Among the measures scheduled for second reading and reference to committees in the senate today are:

By Edwards, Licking, to compel auto owners to remove auto tags when transferring ownership, and providing penalties for permitting the use of tags by another person; by Roberts, Mahoning, making Armistice Day a legal holiday; a joint resolution by Agler, Huron, proposing an amendment to the constitution to provide that 50 per cent of all inheritance and classified taxes be distributed among school districts in proportion to attendance.

He had been in ill health.

PRESIDENT IS SEEKING SOUND REVENUE PLAN

Asks For Simplified Method—Deplores Many Tax Evils

Washington, Feb. 19.—In a blunt arraignment of abuses and extravagance existing in the present national tax structure, President Coolidge today asked federal and state tax experts assembled here in conference to evolve a more simplified and economically sound method of raising revenues.

The president called attention to many tax evils, his remarks applying in the main to estate and inheritance taxes. He spared neither state nor federal government in his criticism.

Commenting upon the federal government's imposition in the revenue act of 1924 of an estate tax the highest bracket of which was raised from twenty five to forty per cent, the executive charged congress with having sought social legislation in the guise of taxation.

Turning to the states, Mr. Coolidge declared there existed a competition between states to reach through the inheritance tax everything "which by any construction can be brought within the grasp of the tax gatherer."

The overlapping of federal and state inheritance taxes, he said, has resulted in a situation that amounts to virtual confiscation, wherein many cases, the total taxes levied may even exceed the total value of the estate.

The president reiterated the belief he expressed last year when he signed the revenue act, that the government should withdraw from this field of taxation. He pointed out that in the past the government had sought revenue from state taxation only in time of war emergency and that it always had withdrawn when the emergency ceased to exist.

Referring to the action of congress in not only continuing but actually increasing the rate on this form of taxation, the president said:

"If we are to adopt socialism, it should be presented to the people of this country as socialism and not under the guise of a law to collect revenue. The people are quite able to determine for themselves the desirability of a particular public policy and do not ask to have such policies forced upon them by indirection."

"Personally, I do not feel that large fortunes properly managed, are a menace to our institutions, and therefore ought to be destroyed. On the contrary they have been and can be of great value to our development."

"On the subject of state avarice in collecting taxes from heirs to estates, whether large or small, Mr. Coolidge showed how it was possible for one certificate of stock to be taxed seven or eight times to an amount, which under particular circumstances might exceed 100 per cent of the value of the stock."

Further to pay inheritance and estate taxes in cash, he said, executors must submit to what amounts to forced sales of property in many cases.

"I venture to say," he declared, "that few executors to pay a forty per cent tax they would have to realize in cash, in the ordinary large estate, probably sixty per cent of the appraised value of the estate."

Three prime dangers were listed by President Coolidge as the probable outcome of any long continuance of the present order of double and excessive taxation of estate:

First, a tendency "to lower values throughout the country by reason of forcing upon the market securities which cannot readily be absorbed, thus lowering the very level of values upon which inheritance and estate taxes are actually based."

Second, "a removal of the inspiration to work in order to build up a business or create a property."

And third, "through continued federal activity in this field, a forcing of the states into making up their losses from this source by higher taxes in other fields."

On the third point, President Coolidge said:

Already the taxes levied by the state upon land are so high as to menace the prosperity of the farmer. For the sake of revenue which the federal government receives from this source—being in the last fiscal year only $103,000,000 out of $2,760,000,000 total internal revenue taxes for that year—the federal government should be careful to see that indirectly it is not taxing the very persons whom it most wishes to relieve."

SUBSCRIBERS FOR STRAWN STOCK MUST PAY COURT HOLDS

Harry D. Smith, receiver for the Strawn Press Company, was awarded a verdict of $500 against George I. Graham in Common Pleas Court Tuesday when Judge R. L. Gowdy instructed the jury to render a decision in favor of the plaintiff.

The amount constituted 33 1-3 per cent of unpaid stock subscribed for by the defendant in the now defunct Strawn Press Company.

When the company went into receivership in December 1923, from ten to fifteen persons had previously signed subscriptions for shares of stock which they had not paid for and which some refused to pay when the company dissolved.

The company was in existence for nearly a year in buildings leased from the Miami Cereal Company, Washington Street, manufacturing printing presses.

Many subscribers eventually paid their stock subscriptions in the company. G. I. Graham and L. E. John refused to test the case in court.

The case against John will probably be tried in the near future according to Attorney H. D. Smith, receiver. He has filed suit for $323 against John which represents 33 1-3 per cent of his unpaid subscription.

Suits against the stockholders who had not yet paid for their subscriptions were instituted to acquire enough money to pay creditors of the company.

In the case of Frank Johnson vs. R. W. Moore heard in Common Pleas Court Wednesday morning, Judge Gowdy instructed the jury to decide in favor of the plaintiff.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Get Back Your Health as Other Xenia Folks Have Done.

Too many people suffer lame, aching backs, distressing kidney disorders and rheumatic aches and pains. Often this is due to faulty kidney action and there's danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Don't let weak kidneys wear you out. Use Doan's Pills before it is too late! Doan's are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Here is one of many Xenia cases:

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER Mr. Stokesbury added: "I have had no further occasion to use Doan's Pills."

No remedy can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and diseases symptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

For Ten Years the World's Greatest Buy

Hudson's position as the world's greatest value is not merely a new attainment. For ten years the Super-Six has stood alone in mechanical supremacy. Basic patents have kept others from copying its motor. The smoothness and long life it gives are exclusive. No motor has yet equaled the Super-Six in smoothness and long, economical car life.

A Leadership Never Disputed

Hudson, because of the simplicity of the Super-Six, has always enjoyed manufacturing advantages that permitted a lower selling price than is possible with more complicated types. That, in part, accounts for its 10 years of leadership. Hudson is the World's Greatest Value, because it costs much less than any comparable car.

And because it has always provided better looks and more comfort at less money.

No rival disputes that and every motorist knows it.

JUNIOR AND CENTRAL P-T. A. JOINT MEETING

Junior and Senior High School Parent-Teachers Associations united for a large meeting at Central Building, Monday afternoon. Miscellaneous business was brought before the organization, including the report of the treasurer of the Junior High P-T. A., of $59.50 in the treasury of that society and a report of $276.70 in the treasury of the High School P-T. A., $180.89 of which was raised by serving luncheon and dinner to the delegates at the recent district P-T. A. convention.

The P-T. A. library committee has submitted a list of $200 worth of books to the Geyer Book Shop, this city and Elder and Johnston Company, Dayton, for bids in purchasing the books for the Central High School Library.

Mr. Harper C. Pendry, principal of the high school, told the organizations of the necessity for the school library, as a state requirement and that the school has been notified by inspectors that if the library was not brought up to standard, the charter would be taken away.

The P-T. A. voted to place three magazines, "The National Geographic," "Literary Digest" and the "Saturday Evening Post" on the library shelves.

Mrs. J. H. Benbow, president of the Central High School P-T. A., told of the work of the organization in combating the spread of obscene literature in the city schools. She urged all organizations to cooperate in the work and said that the Federated Parent-Teachers Association of the city was lending its support.

She declared that some of the magazines on local newsstands should be outlawed.

A letter was read by Judge S. C. Wright complimenting the P-T. A. on its cooperative spirit.

Another message was given from J. Carl Marshall, Prosecuting Attorney thanking the organizations for its work. In a letter from City School Superintendent C. A. Waltz, he praised the P-T. A. in its success in the district convention.

February 17 is Founder's Day in the National P-T. A. and Mrs. P. E. Hamlin, president of the Federated Association, asked the members to pay a few minutes' silent tribute to Mrs. Higgin, the founder of the work.

Mrs. C. R. Stearns gave two clever readings at the close of the meeting.

FOR SALE

On account of our Old Town Mill being destroyed by fire, instead of rebuilding at this point we will enlarge our mills at Xenia and Goes, O. Therefore, we are offering for sale our Old Town property, comprising of about forty acres of land, a beautiful modern country home, a very fine water power system that could be developed to exert 175 H. P., including all water rights from Little Miami River and Massies Creek, a very neat summer cottage, electric lighted with very pleasant surroundings, about 2500 ft. Pennsylvania private railroad siding.

This property is well adapted for many kinds of industries on account of its good location and its many natural resources. This would make an ideal place for any kind of industry requiring power, an ideal place for manufacturers of water wheels to be used as demonstrating station. This would make a wonderful place for a summer resort as there could be forty or fifty summer cottages built; a fine place for dancing pavilion over the lake, a fine place for a gasoline station with a soft drink, ice cream and cigar stand and a dining room, also a barbecue in connection. There could be a generator attached to water wheel to make electric lights or power for every thing wanted.

This is a wonderful opportunity and will pay you to investigate. Call The DeWine Milling Co., Phone 154.

BEATTY AND JUTLAND

ADMIRAL Sir Reginald Bacon's attack on Earl Beatty, in a volume entitled "The Jutland Scandal," has a personal vehemence which sets it quite apart from dispassionate military criticism. Admiral Bacon views Beatty as the undeserved beneficiary of the many mistakes made at the battle of Jutland and contends that Beatty's mistakes there were graver than those of any other British commander.

To sustain this charge he asserts that Jellicoe could not have safely taken the offensive against the German High Seas Fleet when he arrived on the scene because Beatty had not given him adequate information about the enemy's position. But the German fleet was there and the British Grand Fleet was there, Beatty having drawn it on in a retreating advance-squadron fight. In going so he had accomplished his tactical mission, although at a considerable cost.

Jellicoe had to decide a little after 6 p. m. on May 31, 1916, whether to deploy toward the Germans or away from them. He said in his book that he thought the High Seas Fleet was too close to justify the risk of deploying to starboard (toward Scheer.) He deployed to port and carried his ships away from the Germans.

The information which Beatty gave him could have had little to do with this decision. It was a decision of policy, in keeping with Jellicoe's theories and temperament. As it turned out, the chance of a great British victory vanished with the turning away movement. The Germans also turned away, but in the opposite direction, and the two fleets lost contact. Scheer eventually extricated himself by daring tactics from a very perilous position, the British fleet having interposed itself between him and his base. It is difficult to see how Beatty can be charged with the failure of the British operations after Jellicoe's arrival. Jellicoe's force was greatly superior in armor, armament and numbers. Yet the opportunity to destroy the German fleet was lost through excess caution or unlucky management.

Jutland was a paradoxical naval battle in that the weaker fleet escaped and also suffered relatively smaller losses than the stronger. It is useless to hunt for a new scapegoat. Jellicoe accepted responsibility for the failure to bring on a fleet engagement. Beatty had already fought a long squadron engagement, and nothing he did

GOVERNMENT operation of American railways has ceased. The books have been closed and the American people, in taxes alone, have paid substantially one and three-quarter billions of dollars for the experiment. The additional costs which the travelers and shippers of America were obliged to meet because of indifferent service and extraordinarily high rates can hardly be estimated. It can be fairly said that this additional burden will come near equalling the actual total of American dollars paid out by the government, which the taxpayers had to meet.

President Coolidge in announcing the dissolution of the governmental war-time operation organization did not attempt to conceal his satisfaction at being able to relieve the American people of this extraordinary burden. Staggering as these totals are the one element of satisfaction is that happily we only embarked on governmental operation. Had we been driven into government ownership, which was the real aim of many people at the time, the total loss of the people's money would have been many times over the present figure, impressive as that is. A study of the costs of this most unfortunate experiment, not only in money values, but in efficiency, should serve to check the gentlemen who, devoid of any personal responsibility, have been preaching governmental operation of public utilities as the one sure way to secure the millennium for American citizens.

THE INCOME TAX

Here are the figures, Collector man! Just study it out for yourself and say how much money I ought to pay! I've sat up nights for a week or more till my brain is fagged and my flesh is sore.

Working and stewing and puzzling it out. Trying to learn what it's all about; But I have to admit that my poor brain lacks the wit to determine my income tax.

I've gone through the items with painful care, I've waded with zeal through the long instructions, Studied exemptions and pondered deductions, I've called in the wife and the children, too.

And some of the neighbors who said they knew, I've passed up the cross word puzzle craze.

To give my time to that printed maze, I've worked at it long and I've worked at it plenty.

But I can't get the answer to "Item twenty." Let me read it once more to you.

Just show that I've truly read it, And studied each item of debt and credit; This is the way that it sounds to me: "Item nine must be subtracted be From Item forty, plus Item ten, Minus cost of the ink and pen, Providing the sum of them all shall not Exceed the price of the house and lot."

Two full pages of solid print I have waded through with a patriotic's zest, Mr. Collector, I've done my best To follow your chart and clearly show

And now I come with a heavy heart, How much money in tax I owe, At cross word tangles I'm fairly smart,

But tell me the answer and end my doubt, For yours is a puzzle I can't work out!

HANDLED BOOKS

There is such a thrill that comes from the handling of a new fresh-lined book.

But lately I have come to love books that have been handled, kissed, warmed against people's hearts and tenderly laid aside after a hard day.

Tonight I have been reading the life of Samuel Butler by Henry Festing Jones. It is in two big volumes and more satisfying than a thousand $10 banquets. But this statement is not very forceful for banquets are so stupid and useless!

Outside the worth of this work, however, there is something else very appealing and that is that John Quinn used to own these volumes and I can imagine how he loved them for he loved beautiful works of art and collected a great library of rare and wonderful books.

I like to think of the hours that John Quinn spent in handling these books, and others of his that were, that I now own for a little time. I am sorry that I never met this John Quinn who was such a lover of noble handwork, but I have talked with those in New York who did know him and they testify to his great interest in all beautiful things.

You know that a handled book has already given great pleasure and filled many a mind with precious seeds that are never ending in their harvest.

I want no "uncut" books in my library! I want folks to know that I have lived and played and thought and cried all over my prized possessions. I shall keep my books as clean things, but I want them to show signs of use and profit.

I would no sooner abuse a book than I would a flower, a tree or a child.

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR TRAINING CAMP REGISTRATION HERE

Xenia and Greene County youths attending Citizens' Military Training Camps this summer will again go to Camp Knox, Ky., despite the opening of a similar camp in the Fifth Corps area at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. It was learned Wednesday following a conference of officials at Fort Hayes, Columbus.

The camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison will be only open to applicants from Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and northwestern Ohio, it was announced, which will relieve congestion at the Kentucky camp, heretofore taxed to its capacity.

Attorney Harry D. Smith will again be county chairman this year. A committee of fifteen, representative of the entire county has been appointed by Chairman Smith to take care of applications for admission to the camp. Each will be known as the local chairman of his district.

Each camp will open this year July 1 for a thirty day training period. Although the 1925 quota has not been definitely fixed, it is estimated that last year's quota of 5,300 will be increased this year by 1,000.

According to local preparations now being made, the campaign for applicants is scheduled to start about March 1. Chairman Smith declared by that time all local chairmen will probably be supplied with application blanks.

The Fifth Corps Area comprises the states of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The committee: C. A. Waltz, superintendent of schools, Xenia; H. C. Aultman, county school superintendent, Xenia; D. H. Barnes, assistant county school superintendent, Xenia; E. Zuber, superintendent, Bath Township schools, Osborn; M. E. Collins, superintendent Beaver Creek Twp. Schools, Alpha; H. L. Sams, superintendent, Caesar Creek Twp. Schools, R. 6, Xenia; C. E. Oxley, superintendent, Cedarville Village and Township Schools, Cedarville.

S. E. Shupp, superintendent of schools Clinton; J. W. Gowdy, superintendent of schools Jamestown; W. A. Driscoll, superintendent Jefferson Twp. Schools, Bowersville; A. F. Roush, superintendent Ross Twp. Schools, Jamestown; A. W. Drewes, superintendent, Sugar Creek Twp. schools, Bellbrook; O. E. Barr, superintendent of schools, Yellow Springs; Rev. David E. Powers, superintendent parochial schools, Xenia.

CENTRAL WILL PLAY ROOSEVELT HIGH AT DAYTON THURSDAY

Central High School will tossers will invade Dayton territory Thursday night for a game with Roosevelt High School.

Roosevelt always has a classy court combination and this year's five is no exception.

Captain Bollechino, forward on the Dayton quintet is the outstanding star of the team and is runner up in the race for individual scoring honors of all the high schools in the Gem City.

Bollechino, it will be remembered, and Baker, another basketball star this year, practically defeated Xenia in football last year single handed and gained the name of the Baker to Bollechino combination.

Central is in fine shape for the melee and Coach John Ballantyne will undoubtedly start his regular men in the game.

Roosevelt will probably lineup with Bollechino and Baker at forwards, Mackmull jumping center and Lee and Bartholomew doing the guarding.

Huston and Rutan are slated to begin at the forward positions for Xenia with Buell at center and Capton Perrine and Holton protecting the goal.

A preliminary to the main game is scheduled to get under way at 7 o'clock.

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance Markets Stocks, Bonds and Investments

SECURITY GAUGE

Just as certain rough and ready tests determine the breed of an animal, so do similar rough and ready tests indicate the standing of a security.

Practically everything possesses " earmarks " which tend to classify it one way or another. Stocks and bonds are no exceptions to this rule. The table given below furnishes a set of facts which the average investor may use as a "rule of thumb" in classifying securities.

Bonds
High grade bonds yield 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 per cent.
Middle grade bonds yield 5 1/2 to 7 per cent.
Speculative bonds yield 7 per cent and over.

Stocks (Preferred)
High grade pfd. yield 5 and 6 per cent.
Middle grade pfd. yield 6 to 8 per cent.
Speculative pfd. yield 8 per cent and over.

Stocks (Common)
High grade stocks (common) yield 5 to 7 per cent.
Middle grade stocks (common) yield 7 to 8 1/2 per cent.
Spec. stocks (common) yield 8 1/2 per cent and over.

This article does not mean to condemn all high-yield stocks. There are many excellent ones, but the old rule, "High yield means high risk" is still pretty generally true.

The amazing story of the life of Helen Keller, blind, deaf and dumb, was unfolded before good-sized audiences at the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, Tuesday when the motion picture "Deliverance" was exhibited under the auspices of the Junior class.

The picture was shown both in the afternoon and evening and the large number of tickets sold by the high school pupils swelled the audiences that witnessed the three-act photo drama.

Talented motion picture actors and actresses took the parts of characters entering Miss Keller's life, since the time she was a baby, left helpless as the result of disease, through the remarkable course of training until she was shown as she is today.

Miss Keller recently visited Dayton, Springfield, Columbus and other nearby cities and the picture-story of her life was of interest in connection with her personal appearance. The characters in the picture included that of Miss Sullivan, one of Miss Keller's teachers several years ago, who is an aunt of Miss Sarah Hagar, this city.

The picture has been well received over the entire country. Two two-reel comedies were shown in addition to the main movie.

VAUDEVILLE ACTS BOOKED FOR EAGLES CIRCUS NEXT WEEK

Two professional vaudeville acts have been added to the array of talent that will amuse and entertain crowds attending the Fun Fest and Indoor Circus of Xenia Aerie, No. 1689, Fraternal Order of Eagles, to be given at Eagles Hall all next week.

Both floors of the lodge home have been thrown open to the program and the events each evening will start at 7:30 o'clock. Included in the hippodrome features, are Dinola, sensational slack wire performer; Higgin, the Human Frog; The Great Williams in trick barrel acrobatic, hand balancing and equilibrium stunts; Clark and Davis in comedy juggling; D'Armore, in table and chair balancing and pyramid building; The Baloy Sisters in bits of musical comedy and their delegation of clowns and merry-makers, who feature something new in the King Bee stunt, a rube act that always appeals.

All are old-time performers in the tent and before the footlights. The admission fee each evening will be ten cents, and patrons will participate in the donation of a radio set by the lodge on the closing night.

On that night also a queen of the week will be crowned, through a voting contest to be conducted during the week, and two diamond rings have been purchased by the lodge to be given the winners. The fun fest will mark the first formal opportunity of the lodge quarters to the public, and patrons will be granted an opportunity to inspect the building. Funds obtained will be applied to the Eagles' building fund.

GREENE COUNTY BEE KEEPERS ORGANIZE

A permanent organization of Greene County Bee Keepers was effected at the meeting in the Assembly Room of the Court House, Wednesday afternoon, E. S. Collier, Xenia, was elected president; Leroy Wolf, Xenia, vice president; and L. A. Sheffield, Jamestown, secretary-treasurer.

Charles A. Reese, State apiculture inspector and extension specialist in apiculture, spoke on organized work among bee keepers in the state and on the control of American foul brood.

With the organization of a county association early inspection in the cleaning up of American foul brood which is the most dreaded disease in the bee industry, is assured.

The next bee keepers meeting will be held on March 14 in the Assembly Room of the Court House, at which time Mr. Reese has again promised to be present and show several reels of motion pictures on the bee industry and the control of diseases.

How To Tell a Woman's Age By Her Hands

A noted beauty specialist recently said that she could invariably judge a woman's age by her hands. Worry and hard work often shows in the face. For this reason more attention should be given to the hands as they are really the true marks of refinement and the tellers of our age. Any woman can have beautiful, white, soft hands, regardless of the work she has to do, if she will simply spend a minute or two just before retiring, rubbing a little plain ice-cream on them. In the morning she will be greatly surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-cream is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties whether used on the hands or face.

Regardless of what kind of work a woman does, she should have pretty hands. As the hands, if neglected, are bound to show the hard work and worry of our lives. A few applications will actually make any woman proud of her hands and skin. Ice-cream is little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere. Adv.

FAIRFIELD WILL BE ALLOWED PROPERTY RE-APPRAISAL SOON

A resolution adopted unanimously by the Council of the Village of Fairfield petitioning County Auditor R. O. Wead for a reappraisal of real estate and property in the village this year has been received, he announced Thursday.

"The inequalities in real estate valuations of Fairfield is realized," said Auditor Wead Thursday, "and a reappraisal will be begun at an early date."

The resolution read: "The seeming inequality of appraisal of properties of the Village of Fairfield is not considered fair to all property holders and we accordingly petition the auditor to reappraise the village."

A representative of the village made a strong plea for reappraisal at the recent public hearing before the County Commissioners when the question of a county-wide reappraisal was discussed, and particularly cited the inequalities in valuations in Fairfield Village.

When Wilbur Wright Field, the air depot, chose Fairfield for its site several years ago, the village of Fairfield was placed on the map, according to Auditor Wead and property valuations increased accordingly until a reappraisal is almost a necessity.

BAN WELTER WINS FROM RALPH FULTON ON WRESTLING CARD

By L. J. WONES

The Eagles' wrestling show, Wednesday evening was one of the best since the lodge revived the wrestling game here last fall.

Three bouts made up the card, including two main events. In the first, a go Lee Umbles, undisputed Cuyahoga champion and claimant for the title, defeated Ralph Fulton, Columbus wrestler, when after losing first fall he made a nice comeback took the second and third falls. Match lasted one hour and thirty minutes and was the best seen here for some time.

Umbles is fast and clever. He displayed nice form and showed excellent sportsmanship. He was wrestling at great odds as Fulton was heavier and larger and resembled a middleweight.

Fulton is no slouch. His strength and endurance saved him more than once. He used a head lock quite frequently with good success. Fulton the first fall after the men had a wrestling twenty minutes. He a hammerlock that forced the man to surrender.

Umbles made a nice comeback and stilled rings around his opponent. He got several grips one being a Nelson and hammerlock that the Columbus man wriggled away. The Cuban finally got a hammerlock and pinned Fulton to the mat after eighteen minutes of fast work.

The third fall was the longest, lasting thirty-five minutes. Umbles won an arm strangle lock.

The second main event was another fought match with Billy Hallas, Oshocton, trading grips with Harry Wils of Columbus.

Wils was Greek against Greek and the resembled a fight in places. Slugging, kicking and biting all in the limelight. The bout the fans in a continual uproar.

Wils won the match after losing the fall taking the next two falls in minutes.

Hallas, Greek welterweight champion, fast, strong and clever when he is to be. He will meet Jack Reynolds, the world's 145-pound champion, at 3 at Eagles Hall.

Florida, in a statement to the writer, said that he had lost to better men. Klonis showed his best in the first fall which he won a double wrist lock in twenty minutes.

Hallas took the second fall in five minutes with a leg split in ten minutes. A man left out the rough work and let their time to grappling. Hall took the third fall when he caught Wils off balance and jumped on him and pinned his shoulders to the canvas winning the bout.

Miller of Akron beat Genead of this city in seventeen minutes with a scissors. The bout started slow but near the end speeded up and got several grips that caused trouble one of these being a hold.

Miller had a weight advantage and has had much more experience in the local mat map. Considering the handicaps Wead put up a nice performance.

A fair crowd witnessed the show and all were well pleased with the results. George Gatsoff refereed the match and Klonis go while George neer of this city officiated for the main events and in the semi-finals.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

Tells you there is danger ahead. A healthy bladder does not act at night. J. H. Dorton, W. Graham, Va., says: "I had to get up seven or eight times at night for forty years. I thought it was my age. After taking Lithiated Buchu a short time, I am alright. Lithiated Buchu cleanses the bladder as Epsom Salts do the bowels thereby relieving irritation, driving out foreign matter and neutralizing excessive acids. These are the causes of unnatural action of the bladder at night. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) is not a cheap medicine. The tablets cost 2 cents each. Thousands Dangerously Weak After Flu and Grippe

Tells How To Quickly Get Back Needed Strength Appetite And Vitality.

Reports tell us that in one state, tens of thousands of people are "all too slowly" regaining their health and strength after illness.

Influenza and Grippe are insidious diseases, that nine times out of ten strip their victims of strength, vitality and power to endure any ordinary strain.

Even a heavy cold or a lingering cough may sap a man's strength so tremendously that he despairs of every being strong enough to go to work again.

People in this deplorable condition should know that the greatest builder of strength in weak, rundown, tired out people is Cod Liver Oil—its full of the best health building vitamins, as any doctor or chemist will tell you.

But it's loathsome stuff to take—the taste nauseates—the smell disgusts and repulses.

That's why physicians and pharma-called into service to keep the roads in the best possible shape, and the public is asked to co-operate by lessening speed and lightening loads.

SPRING AIN'T COME YET!

Oh, how I long for sunny spring and all the pleasures it will bring, when kids will bring their books from school and we will pasture out our mule. I often think of coming days, of lulling winds and warbling jays, and I have counted months and weeks 'till there'll be fishing in the creeks; when locust blossoms I will smell and hang the cream jar in the well.

I've had enough of drifting snows, of colds in chests and frosted toes; and I am sick of mush and cakes which every morning wifes bakes. I'll laugh when wintry days are o'er, when bitter winds will howl no more, to make me stay at home of nights and burn the coal oil in my lights. My, ain't it grand to think of spring and all the pleasures it will bring.

Within a month or so I'll take my garden spade and sharp-toothed rake, and I will plant just what we need of every kind of garden seed. I'll move the porch swing from out the shed and dub it with a coat of red, and in the yard I'll plant some hay so there'll be picking for my bay. I'll dig some worms and kill a fowl and then I'll fish in the canal. And when the dandelion is up, I'll make a drink I love to sup.

I'll plow my fields of oats and corn and get up early every morn', when dew will be on grass and road and files will hide away from toads. Yea, I'll be glad to welcome spring and all the pleasures it will bring.

Outside the birds will sing their tunes and for our breakfast we'll have prunes. We'll see the sunshine in the sky and watch the clouds go sailing by. The grass will all be green, I vow, and fit for pasture for my cow. The maples will be full of juice and turnips growing like the deuce. The cows and chickens all will dig and I will kill a Hereford pig. Gosh, how I long for sunny spring and all the pleasures it will bring.

CROSSING VICTIM IS NOW IMPROVING

Clyde Ewing, 25, New Burlington, who is in Espey Hospital, this city, with a fractured hip and other injuries, received in the accident at Roxanna, Friday, when Russell Connor, 20, also of New Burlington, met his death, continues to recover.

Ewing has rallied sufficiently to inquire about his companion and was told of his death. His recovery is steady according to Dr. W. A. Galoway, his attending physician.

BRIDGEPORT

The farmers in this section have opened their sugar camps and have reported several good "runs." The Ketter camp, the largest in this section, has made thirty-five gallons of the "sweet" already.

Quarantine Lifted

The quarantine was lifted from the Beason home Sunday morning. Miss Ruth Beason a student at Xenia High School, developed smallpox two weeks ago, and the rest of the family were isolated, so there were no other cases and with Miss Beason much improved, Dr. Grube decided to lift the quarantine.

Mr. Charles Ketter of Dayton, spent the week end with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weiss and children are convalescing from the grip.

Mrs. J. D. Ketter spent Wednesday evening and Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Edgingfield, of Belmont, who is ill with heart trouble. She was slightly improved at that time.

FIRST WOMAN MADE MEMBER OF GREENE COUNTY FAIR BOARD

Mrs. L. H. Jones, Miami Township, has the distinction of being the first woman in Greene County to be appointed a member of the Greene County Agricultural Society. Her appointment was made at the meeting of the fair board Tuesday afternoon in the County Commissioners' Office in the Court House and she will fill the place of John Hoffman, who was elected from Miami Township, last fall. Mr. Hoffman moved from the county which resulted in his resignation from the board.

J. Harve Lackey's election as County Commissioner, automatically removed him as a member of the fair board and his place was filled at the meeting Monday by the appointment of C. W. Mott, Jamestown representing Ross Township.

The Greene County Fair will be held August 4, 5, 6 and 7, as arranged at a previous meeting and department heads of the annual county agricultural show were appointed at Monday's meeting.

The department heads are as follows: Speed Department, C. M. Austin, B. U. Bell and Grant Miller and under this department are: Horses, Grant Miller; Cattle, (beef and dairy calf club) L. B. Harner and Frank Turnbull; Sheep, Walter St. John; Swine, C. W. Mott; Poultry, Thomas Faulkner; Art, Hall, Mrs. L. H. Jones; Farm and Garden Products and Grange and Vegetable Hall, A. B. Lewis; Machinery, W. C. Smith, and Automobile Department, N. N. Hunter.

A change in the sheep department was effected, each class and breed of that department being allowed sweepstakes. Instead of sweepstakes for several classes grouped.

The Boys' and Girls' Club work of the county, headed by Ford S. Prince, County Farm Agent, was allowed $450 to carry on the work of the clubs.

The Baby Beef and Dairy Calf Clubs were each allowed $200 for their work. The County Grange was allowed $455, in case that six Granges exhibit at the fair and in the possibility of seven exhibiting, the extra organization will be allowed $45.

Harve Lackey, who served several years as a member of the Fair Board, was extended a vote of thanks by members. Nine members of the board attended the meeting.

Stomach Distress

"For many years I suffered from gastric stomach trouble and a constipated condition of the bowels," said Mrs. J. Paul of 543 E. Broadway Toledo. "I took different medicines but never found anything to equal Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I would become constipated and would suffer from severe headaches. Had indigestion, after eating gas would form and cause great distress. I had to keep taking something all the time to overcome these conditions. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have proved to be the best thing I have ever taken for my ailment. Since taking them I have had very little trouble with either my stomach or bowels. I also give the 'Pleasant Pellets' to my children as a laxative and find them excellent. They are very mild. These 'Pellets' should be kept in every home."

Obtain a vial of Pellets now of your druggist and see how quickly you'll feel clear headed—full of vim and vitality. 60 Pellets for 30c.

NOW DOES ALL HER WORK

Has No Backache, No Bad Feelings Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Drove Her Illness Away

Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—"I was in a badly run-down condition and I would get weak spells and terrible headaches. I felt so badly last year that I could not do any housecleaning. The minute I would lift or stoop it seemed as if I was going to fall to pieces. I told a neighbor how I felt and she said that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did. That gave me the strength and ambition I needed and I have gained in weight. This year before I started to clean house I got four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and am taking it right along. I tell all my friends about it and how much good it does me. They can notice it because I have gained in weight. I weigh 118 now and do all my work myself again."

BRINGING UP FATHER

One Wife on Approval

by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "Luxury of Love," "The Husband Bearer," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA AND JIM LELAND return from their honeymoon to his home town, where his mother promptly begins to try to make Cynthia over. She has accepted the girl merely on approval. Cynthia finds it difficult to get along with her sister-in-law.

LOUELLA GRAY, also, but likes her brother-in-law, Stanley. She meets

NOEL GARDNER while her husband is out of town on business partly concerned with some bad investments that his mother has made.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XVII—CYNTHIA'S PLAN

LOUELLA and her husband insisted on driving Cynthia home, although she would have preferred going in her own car, which had been ordered to call for her. Louella urged that she telephone her chauffeur that he need not come back.

"In fact, you might just as well dismiss him, now that Jim is away," she told Cynthia.

he back quite soon; it would be absurd to discharge Chester and then have to look for another chauffeur at once," Cynthia protested.

"Oh, but Jim's to be away for some time," Louella answered. "I was talking with mother just before I left home this evening, and she'd had a letter from him. He won't be back for several months, she says; he's gone on to the Coast, and may go to Honolulu before he returns."

"Really?" Cynthia's face fell. How would she get along without Jim all that time? "In that case, he's probably written me also—he'll want me to join him," she said, hardly realizing that she was speaking aloud.

Louella looked at her doubtfully. "Well, perhaps, though it would hardly seem likely to me," she replied.

Cynthia's face flushed, but she said nothing. Why hadn't Jim written her as promptly as he had written his mother? For a moment she was very angry. Then another thought came—probably he had planned to send her a telegram that night, or perhaps he'd call her on the long distance. "I must hurry home," she exclaimed, when she thought of that. "I'm sure Jim will call me tonight on the phone."

"If he does he's more extravagant than he used to be," her sister-in-law commented sharply.

During the drive home Louella was very quiet; it was a disappointing silence, and Cynthia made no effort to break it. Why should her husband's people be so hostile, she asked herself. It seemed impossible to please them. Well, she'd stop trying, if they continued to be so disagreeable.

Stanley escorted her up to the steps to her front door, and opened there with her until it was closed. "Guess you and I got in wrong tonight," he confided gloomily. "Louella gave me the deuce when I saw her for a few moments alone, and she'll go on with it when we get home. Think I was too attentive to you at dinner—when it was all I could do to tear your attention away from Noel Gardner."

"You'd better not have anything to do with me if you want to keep peace in the family; everything I do is wrong," Cynthia retorted. She was tired and unhappy, wretched at the prospect of having Jim away for so long.

"Oh, well, it's just the old question of adapting yourself to new people and surroundings," he told her. "It was hard for me at first too. As soon as you learn their ways and settle into them you'll be all right."

Cynthia nodded, glad to get rid of him and go into the house alone. It seemed very gloomy and lonesome, but at least she could be alone. She undressed, and sat reading in her little sitting-room, near the telephone, for the next two hours, sure that Jim would call her. But at last, exhausted, she went to bed. Jim evidently hadn't thought it worth the money to call her.

She was at Gardner's office promptly at eleven the next morning, and explained that she understood that he was interested in the stock that Madame Leland had bought, and lost money on, and that she wanted him to buy it back from Madame Leland and then sell it to her.

"You see, she and I have had some difficulty about—well, about other things," she told him. "And I feel that if I could do this it would make matters easier for both of us."

He studied her quietly for a moment. Then he nodded decisively and reached for some papers that were in a drawer of his desk.

"All right; I'll do it," he told her. "As a matter of fact, that stock that Madame Leland bought is very low just now, and of course if she doesn't wish to keep it until it goes up she's at liberty to sell. It's true that I'm heavily interested in it, but things were not managed quite as I'd have chosen while I was away."

"But Jim's to soon; it would be absurd to discharge Chester and then have to look for another chauffeur at once," Cynthia protested.

"Oh, but Jim's to be away for some time," Louella answered. "I was talking with mother just before I left home this evening, and she'd had a letter from him. He won't be back for several months, she says; he's gone on to the Coast, and may go to Honolulu before he returns."

"Really?" Cynthia's face fell. How would she get along without Jim all that time? "In that case, he's probably written me also—he'll want me to join him," she said, hardly realizing that she was speaking aloud.

Louella looked at her doubtfully. "Well, perhaps, though it would hardly seem likely to me," she replied.

"Mind if I join you?"

and—oh, I won't explain, but I'll buy the stock back from her, and arrange later to sell it to you."

"At the price she paid for it," Cynthia insisted.

"Yes, at that same price. Now, tell me—can't we have luncheon together?"

Cynthia smiled as she shook her head.

"Sorry, but I'm lunching out at the country club with Mrs. Malcom; we're going to play golf afterwards."

He looked up with interest. "That's a good way to spend the afternoon—congratulations. Now, I'll phone you later about this matter, and we can settle the details then."

Cynthia drove out to the country club with her thoughts in a turmoil. Her father had left her very well provided for, but if she was to buy this stock she would have to sell some of the securities that he had left her; it would take all the money that she could put her hands on, swallowing up her income for some months to come.

"I don't care if it takes every cent I've got," she decided as she reached the club. "I'll do it."

Her luncheon with Cedie Malcom was a long round of gossip, and she was glad to leave the table and go out to the veranda. The first person she saw there was Noel Gardner, in golfing clothes. He hurried forward eagerly. "Mind if I join you?" he asked.
